Objective:

In order to correspond to current academic globalization trend, students need more than basic trainings, but also global vision, mobility, and adaptation. 「Asian-Pacific Culinary and Culture Program」 is designed with the purpose of creating a globalized campus by attracting international students.

Introduction:

「Asian-Pacific Culinary and Culture Program」 is an English program with main focus on advanced health-related technologies. It also gathers Taiwan local culture with the research resource of the university, which makes this program like no others.

Target Students:

1. International graduates with non-Mandarin majors
2. Students from Yuanpei University
3. Number of the students: At least 10 students, including both local and international students.

Program Arrangement:

1. Six core courses: “Food Sciences and Lab” (3 credits), “Asian Culture and Food” (3), “Health Industry Site Visits” (3), “Exotic Cuisine and Lab” (3) and “Seminar” (2) with English curriculum and materials are provided. “Chinese Culture and Language” (3) is added to this program as an optional course. Students who pass the program will receive a certificate.
2. Credits: 17 in total

Applying for the program:

The program starts in the spring semester each year.

Students start taking classes upon approval by the Office of International Affairs.

Applying for the certificate of the program:

Students submit their transcripts of the program to the college of Health Sciences (Asian-Pacific Culinary and Culture Program committee) three months before commencement. Once the process is completed, students will receive a certificate of Asian-Pacific Culinary and Culture Program.

Tuition:

Tuition ranges between US$ 1570 and US$1891 per semester. Tuition-free admission is offered for students from our sister universities.

About Yuanpei University

Yuanpei University (YPU) is located in Shianshan, Hsinchu. It is a city with a high technology science park, known as the Silicon Valley of Taiwan. The mission of YPU is to pursue academic excellence in both technological fields and medical care. With keen insight and strong determination, Mr. Tsai Pin-Kung, the school founder and a specialist in radiology, was able to establish the first medical junior college in Taiwan. The YPU offers 3 colleges (College of Medical Technology, Nursing and Wellbeing, College of Health Sciences, and College of Industry and Management) with 9 master programs and 16 undergraduate programs. Giving top priority to students in the areas of teaching and counseling, the PYU emphasizes educations in both creativity and ethics. The university also provides a General Affairs, the Guangyu Art Center and an Information center to assist students at all times. The YPU also has an outstanding library system as well as a gymnasium. In addition, the YPU has established internship programs with 100 industries. Students have plenty of practical training experiences during their study. By bringing E-campus, cultural and technological learning environment together, the YPU hopes to prepare students well and enhance their competitive power in their future careers.

About the Office of International Affairs

The Office of International Affairs (OIA) consists of two centers: International Exchange and Cooperation Center (IECC) and Cross-Strait Cooperation Center (CECC). The OIA is the main contact of 「Asian-Pacific Culinary and Culture Program」 for prospective/incoming international students. It is responsible for globalizing the campus and boosting the competitiveness of the YPU by enhancing international cooperation relationships, strengthening faculty and student exchange events. The OIA is also in charge of handling international exchange affairs, such as international cooperation projects and management, arrangement of activities for international students, international sister-school affairs, planning education expositions, receiving international guests, English website maintenance, and related academic activities.
