41-43 題為題組

After 1812 white settlers began to move west across North America. At first, the settlers and the Indians lived in peace. However, the number of settlers increased greatly every year, and slowly the Indians began to see the white settlers as a danger to their survival. To feed themselves, the settlers killed more and more wild animals. The Indians, who depended on these animals for food, had to struggle against starvation. The settlers also brought with them many diseases which were common in white society, but which were new for the Indians. Great numbers of Indians became sick and died. Between 1834 and 1854 the Indian population in one area of the country went down from 100,000 to 30,000.

41. The story of the Indians is _____ in the history of a nation that promised freedom and equality to everyone.

 (D)the Indians found it necessary to fight against the settlers
44. It was _____ that caused a series of disasters to the Indians.
 (A)white settlers (B)starvation
 (C)diseases (D)the extinction of wild animals

45-47 題為題組

In the past two years, millions of Americans have suddenly embraced the bicycle as if it were a startling new invention. Annual bike sales doubled between 1960 and 1970, and there are nearly 70 million bikes in the United States today. This figure is more than two-thirds the number of automobiles.

Of course, the bike has been around for more than 150 years, and this is not America's first bicycle boom. A wave of bike enthusiasm swept the land in the late 1800s and bicycle production hit two million units in 1897. Then with the coming of the auto, bicycling declined, and for decades remained popular only with children and a few adults.

Now, national preoccupation with the air pollution and physical fitness has brought the bike back to the forefront—particularly with adults. More than eight million bikes were sold in the United States last year and a third of them went to adults. The year before, only 15% of new bike sales were for adults.

45. Bicycles have been around in the United States for about _____ years.
(A)150 (B)100 (C)200 (D)250

46. Once the sale of bikes declined because of _____.

- (A)a decrease in population
- (B)the coming of the auto
- (C)the popularity of the public transportation
- (D)the rise of the subway

47. When was the first bike boom ?

- (A)In the late 1900's. (B)In the late 1800's.
- (C)In the past two years. (D)In 1960.

48-50 題為題組

On a normal day, an American newspaper is likely to have forty-eight or more pages and on Sundays the number of pages may be nearly two hundred. This size is accounted for in two main ways. First, a newspaper carries items of interest to everyone. Second, the selling price is not enough to pay for producing the paper. In order to earn additional money newspapers sell advertising space to private citizens and business firms, and a large part of the paper is taken up by advertisements. This combination of items of interest to everyone and a large number of advertisements accounts for the size of the paper.

48. An American newspaper has more pages on Sundays than on normal days. Why?

- (A)It costs less on Sundays.
- (B)People have more leisure on Sundays.
- (C)It contains items of interest to everyone and a large number of advertisements.
- (D)The information is not stated in the passage.

49. Newspapers obtain their income from

- (A)their publishers.
- (B)their readers.
- (C)their advertisements.
- (D)selling newspapers and carrying advertisements

50. This passage is mainly about

- (A)the size of an American newspaper.
- (B)the income of an American newspaper.
- (C)the publication of an American newspaper.
- (D)the management of an American newspaper.
